

Preview of the submission form

You can submit your request by creating an account using our online help desk tool, Zammad.

You will be asked to give your submission a title that highlights your request (such as Swiss pharma supply chain, Tracking illegal mines, Flooding in Peru).

Use the submission form on Zammad (750-word limit) to summarize and explain your corporate research request as clearly as possible.

The following questions are part of the submission form:

1. Who are you? Tell us about your work and, if applicable, your organization's work.
2. Who funds you/your organization?
3. Are you submitting this request on behalf of an affected community/individuals? If yes, tell us about them and your relationship with them. If not, tell us how the research may benefit them.
4. List the company or companies you need information for.
5. What are the social or environmental harms related to these companies' operations?
6. Are there any security issues we should be made aware of related to your request?
7. What corporate information do you think you need?
8. How do you plan to use the information requested?
9. Timeline of relevant events and possible future actions.
10. How urgent is your request and ideally when do you need this research by?
11. Are there any security concerns to consider when communicating with you?
12. Contact details of contact person including name, email, phone number. Please indicate if there are security concerns and we will contact you through a secure way.
13. How did you hear about The Counter? Were you referred (if yes, by whom)?
14. Anything additional related to your request you think we should know?

